

We're hiring...

....Planners at all levels across our UK based hubs

Marrons are adding to our rapidly growing team of town planning, socio-economic, heritage, master-planning, design and architectural specialists.

We are recruiting individuals with previous experience in a Planning role (ideally from within local government, consultancy or development industry), a relevant Planning qualification (or working towards one) and a keen interest in the built and natural environment.

We have opportunities across several of our office hubs including Sheffield, Leicester, Nottingham, Birmingham, Kent & London.

If you would like to work across planning matters of all types and scales, serving major house builders, developers, manufacturers, investment companies, and more then please get in touch.
